

AIAA Houston section

Community Resources
JSC Small Business Council Fall 2024 Conference

AIAA – national and local

- AIAA Houston represents the 800-plus AIAA members in the Houston, Texas area
- AIAA Houston belongs to AIAA “Region IV” alongside Dallas, San Antonio, and other South/SouthWest metropolitan areas
- Sections receive yearly funding from the national office to execute a wide array of programs at their discretion

AIAA Houston at-a-glance

The mission of the AIAA Houston Section is to promote the advancement of the aerospace profession, with special emphasis on the following tasks:

1. To provide the membership with opportunities for continuing education, professional growth, and recognition for their accomplishments
2. To stimulate the exchange of information within the scientific and technical community
3. To provide support and encouragement for students in learning math, science, and engineering
4. To assist the general public in understanding the benefits of aerospace systems and technology

AIAA Houston at-a-glance

The mission of the AIAA Houston Section is to promote the advancement of the aerospace profession, with special emphasis on the following tasks:

1. To provide the membership with opportunities for continuing education, professional growth, and recognition for their accomplishments

2. To stimulate the exchange of information with other technical

3. To promote the advancement of aerospace science,

4. To promote the advancement of aerospace systems

Monthly lunch-n-learns with industry technical leaders

AIAA Houston at-a-glance

The mission of the AIAA Houston Section is to promote the advancement of the aerospace profession, with special emphasis on the following tasks:

1. To provide the membership with opportunities for continuing education, professional growth, and recognition for their accomplishments
2. To stimulate the exchange of information within the scientific and technical community

Networking and Social events

- Every 3rd Thursday
- Free drink tickets and table food for all attendees – no membership required

AIAA Houston at-a-glance

Design, build, fly funding support; and scholarship awareness

1. To provide the membership with opportunities for professional growth, and recognition for their accomplishments
2. To stimulate the exchange of information within the community
3. To provide support and encouragement for students in learning math, science, and engineering
4. To assist the general public in understanding the benefits of aerospace systems and technology

A vertical stack of blue lanyards with the AIAA logo and text repeated vertically.

UNDERGRAD DIVERSITY
SCHOLARS
PROGRAM PANEL

Tue. Sept. 17 | 5:30pm CST | Virtual only

Hear from previous scholarship winners about AIAA-funded ASCEND, SCITECH attendance and application process.

aiaahouston.org
academics@aiaahouston.org

AIAA Houston at-a-glance

The mission of the AIAA Houston Section is to promote the advancement of the aerospace profession, with special emphasis on the following tasks:

1. To provide the membership with opportunities for continuing education, professional growth, and the recognition of their accomplishments
2. To stimulate the exchange of ideas between the scientific and technical community
3. To provide support and resources for the learning of math, science, and engineering
4. To assist the general public in understanding the benefits of aerospace systems and technology

Public engagement like this talk!

AIAA Houston benefits for small business

- Access to AIAA's 800-plus Houston area aerospace professional members
- Employee continuing education and networking opportunities
- Early-career employee satisfaction and retention

Thank you for the time!
chair@aiaahouston.org

AIAA Houston LinkedIn